

Ask Your Compounding Pharmacist

By Prakash Suthar, RPh

I have a stubborn wound that won't heal... What can I do?

For especially stubborn wounds, a compounded prescription formula using our special base Spira-Wash Gel could be the help that you need. Spira-Wash Gel is unique as it is water-soluble allowing for easy cleaning of the wound, provides a protective barrier, and promotes a moisturizing environment for optimal healing. The base contains organic meadowsweet extract that may have germicidal, anti-inflammatory, and healing properties. Your healthcare provider can customize your prescription with different ingredients including antibiotics, anti-fungals, pain relievers, numbing agents, and other components to best treat your individual wound. These formulas may work well for diabetic ulcers, bed-sores or other difficult-to-treat wounds such as burns, sores, and cuts. If you experience scarring after burns, surgery, or other types of trauma, contact us about a compounded prescription for scar therapy. We are happy to contact your healthcare provider on your behalf.
